After completing Hennessy's Novice Standard title and then going on to get his Novice Jumpers With Weaves title, I was content with that and I was planning to stay in Novice just to show people that a Saint can not only compete in agility, but come in First. So many people kept asking me when I was going to start in Open, saying that the dog can do it, that I decided to give it a try.

Instead of entering just one Open class, I entered both Open classes. On our first try, we received a "leg" in both Open Standard and in Open Jumpers With Weaves. This was in the middle of July 2001, and by the 18th of August we had earned both Open titles. At one show there were nine dogs in the 24" class and eleven dogs in the 20" class, and Hennessy was the only dog to qualify. No one can say Saints cannot do it all. Hennessy made me proud that day.

Going from Novice to Open is a big change and I had to change the way I handled Hennessy in order to be successful. He was always taught to work on my left side. Now he had to learn that it was alright to be on my right side. We collided at times, and at a recent show he took the next jump while I was sprawled out on the ground. He looked back and saw me, so he came back over the last jump to rescue me, and we were eliminated. Agility does get comical at times.

In Novice there might be six weave poles and in Open up to twelve. Open might have three more obstacles, or the course uses one obstacle more than once. Novice courses seem like an even flow, while in Open they might put in traps, 360 degree turns, or a jump is just there for it's looks, not meant to go over. The number of mistakes you can make is less, and seconds over the time limit score one point in Novice, compared to two points in Open. Not hitting a contact point on an obstacle is still an automatic non-qualification.

A typical course in Novice Standard is 120 yards in 67 seconds, and in Open Standard it is 170 yards in 70 seconds. Novice Jumpers With Weaves is 100 yards in 37 seconds, while Open Jumpers With Weaves is 130 yards in 37 seconds. At one show, while I was on the line waiting to go, the dog in the ring "wet" the pause table, so they held us up until they washed it down with water and ammonia. Well, when Hennessy raced to the pause table and he got a whiff of that, he hit the brakes resulting in points off for a refusal by stopping before jumping up on it. I guess Saints do have a good sense of smell.

Up the narrow plank...

Trotting across with ease...

Hitting the contact point and he is off!

Maintaining balance over the teeter-totter

Up and over the A Frame-into the tunnel

On to the table for a Down

A sharp turn and off to the finish line to become the FIRST OAJ Saint Bernard!
