For the RAE title, an exhibitor and his dog must earn qualifying scores in Advanced B and Excellent B classes at the same trial 10 times.

Dino and I started our Rally adventure back in October 2020. I'd been wanting to try Rally and I knew Dino would be perfect for it. He loves to work and he loves verbal praise. So it was a perfect fit. He and I both loved the sport, so we kept competing together. He is slow to compete, but he really knows what I'm asking for. We will never win for time, but he does the signs well! Once he earned his RE title, I didn't want to jump right into the Triple Q class, so we jumped in RAE class. This means you compete in the Excellent B and Advanced B class at the same trial. You must path both at the same trial to earn just ONE leg. Then in order to get the title, you must get ten legs for the title.

We slowly chipped away at it. Then June 12, 2022, he needed just one more leg! He managed to snag his last leg at the same trial he competed at Rally for the first time two years earlier. This title was extra special, apart from being the first GCH, this title puts him into the Hall of Fame! I love working with him, he is truly a special pup!
